

As autumn turns to winter, Neil Edwards has been busy cutting the Hall's hedges and our new gardener Simon Couchman and John Nayler, busy clearing the bed under the oak tree. Unfortunately, when clearing the undergrowth, the bench was found to be beyond repair, however, it had lasted 46 years, so it served us well! It had been donated to the village hall by 'Waldringfield young wives' in 1975 and the plaque has been retained. If anyone has any old photos of the bench when it was placed there originally we would be delighted to see them. Hannah Stock has kindly prepared a new design for the bed and a replacement bench will be acquired for people to sit and enjoy the new plants whilst visiting the mobile shop or post office van. We aim to have the hard landscaping completed over the winter with the bed ready for planting in the spring.

We had an energy audit carried out over the summer and this will inform our decision making as we seek to reduce our carbon footprint and reduce maintenance costs. We shall be applying for grant aid for the replacement of lighting with led units and are investigating other energy saving measures. We also plan to improve the Kennedy Room and enhance the broadband coverage.

Events, which have been fewer due to Covid, have started to re-appear. In addition to the monthly coffee mornings, Liz Kennedy and Celia Mason arranged for us to enjoy the music of the Kingfisher Ensemble and we look forward to Chris Lyon's tantalising and sell-out quiz evening on 26th November. The Winter Talks are due to resume under the expert guidance of Colin Reid and we look forward to more social occasions in the forthcoming months – government regulations permitting! Village events are much loved and appreciated but do not organise themselves. They rely upon a dedicated band of volunteers and there is a danger that some will cease to happen if more people do not come forward to offer their help. So please, if you can contribute the odd hour, it will be very much appreciated – and we will try to make it fun for you. Please contact me on 07872 375784 if you can help.

Philip Hall, Chair

Badminton continues on a Thursday evening starting at 7.30 in the hall. Everyone is welcome. It is a social evening and you are not required to play, just come along.

The hall has two good table tennis tables and two mats used for short mat bowling. The short mat bowling is like indoor bowls, using the same bowls but with a modification to make it more interesting. It used to be very popular in the old hall but has not been used for a while in the new hall.
