Tree Warden’s Comments - DC/26/2325/ARM

I have looked at the substation plan revision D and also have seen the actual substation as it is currently on the ground. I think it is potentially quite a good scheme. I saw that the trees all had irrigation tubes fitted which is good as we were unable to get confirmation that this would be done in earlier conversations.

I agree with the landscape officer Henry Goodfellow's comments re introducing more evergreens which now appear as gorse on Revision D.

Christine Fisher-Kay – Waldringfield Tree Warden